The following Resolution of the Government of India is republished :—

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY.

GENERAL.

Simla, the 4th May 1909

RESOLUTION

No. 3164-73.—A report by the Secretary under the Inventions and Designs Act, 1888 (V of 1888), on the working of the Act during the calendar year 1908 is published for general information :

No 1477-P., dated Calcutta, the 30th April 1909.

From—R. G. Graves, Esq., Secretary under the Inventions and Designs Act,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Commerce and Industry

I have the honour to submit, for the information of the Government of India, the Annual Report of the Patents-Office during the calendar year 1908.

2. The office, at 2, Bankshall Street, Calcutta, has been in my charge throughout the year.

3. During the year 551 applications were made for leave to file specifications and 471 specifications were filed. The total number of applications under the present Act has been 9,510 and of specifications 7,387. Compared with the previous year there has been a somewhat heavy decrease of 84 in the number of applications and of 87 in the number of specifications filed. On the other hand, the amount received as continuance fees by payment of which existing exclusive privileges are kept in force, has shown a slight increase and the total income of the office has only fallen by Rs. 956. Although the number of applications is so much smaller than last year, it is worthy of note that residents in India are not accountable for the reduction which is solely due to the decrease in the number of foreign applicants.

4. As usual, the railway and textile industries take the lead, though to a somewhat less extent than previously, amongst the wide range of inventions for which protection is sought. One of the features of interest of the year is to be found in the inventions for safe-guarding railway passengers, which arose from some recent notorious incidents. Of the applications thus originated in this way two refer to alarm systems, two to modified foot boards, two connect the doors with the brake system, and two others lock the doors by the motion of the train. Some six inventions for locking railway wagon doors have also been put forward for the protection of goods against train thieves. Amongst the textile inventions are to be found four hand looms. Applications of interest in the printing trades show an increase from 9 to 21, largely due to a number of type-setting machines.

5. Of the 551 applications made during the year 55 related to inventions that prima facie did not appear to be novel. In accordance with the practice that is now well established, the state of public knowledge was pointed out to the applicant, and he was given an opportunity of amending his application. Including 5 cases pending from the previous year, the result has been that 25 applications were abandoned, 3 were finally refused and leave was granted in 21 cases, 8 being still pending. Altogether leave was granted on 403 of these 431 applications during the year, 14 were rejected, 27 abandoned and 182 were pending on December 31st. 255 specifications were filed in respect of applications filed during the year, while the balance 216 appertained to the applications of the previous year.

6. Expired privileges were kept alive by payment of prescribed fees in 5,512 cases, or 8 less than in the previous year, whilst 428 or 9 more than in 1907, ceased. Of the 7,487 specifications brought on to the register, 2,615 are now in force, an increase of 42 as compared with 2,603 at the end of last year. The appended table shows the comparative age and number of these privileges for the various years.

7. One application only was made for the extension of an exclusive privilege beyond the normal period of 14 years. After due consideration the Governor General in Council allowed an additional period of seven years, subject to conditions.

8. Sixty-nine applications for the registration of designs, including three outstanding from the previous year, were all disposed of during the period under review. Fifty-six of these designs were registered. The marked increase of 32 as compared with the number in 1907 is largely due to the intimation of 21 wall papers and borders, presented by one applicant at Bombay. There were also thirteen discs of the same ornamental types which originated in Madras and Delhi as mentioned last year. Eight bangles were also registered. Five applications were abandoned and eight refused, six of the latter being for trade marks or labels, to which the Act does not apply.

9. The work of the office has progressed satisfactorily and has been kept up to date during the year. As in 1906 and 1907 no reference was made to the law officers and any other expert advice that was necessary, was obtained informally. The annual consolidated index of all inventions and designs, for which protection was sought or obtained during 1907, was issued early in the year. Corresponding volumes, entitled "Inventions and Designs," are at the date available for the years 1905 to 1908 at the price of Rs. 1 each. A consolidated subject-matter index of inventions in the years 1901 to 1907 inclusive was also issued at the same price.

10. The Bill for the amendment of the law relating to patents has been drafted, and, in September was distributed to Local Governments, patent agents and others with the view of eliciting opinions from the manufacturing public and others concerned in the protection of inventions and designs. In its main lines the draft Bill follows the provisions of the United Kingdom Patents and Designs Act of 1907, though it has not gone quite so far as that Act in the matter of compulsory working in the country, for which India as yet is not sufficiently advanced. Replies have not yet been received to all the references but it is hoped that legislation may be possible next session.
